Mt. Hermon Chapel Rededicated; Completely Filled By Large Audience

Sainted men with faith victorious
Have upbuilt her walls in love
Lo, she stands with God's own blessing
Shed upon her from above.

—Hermion Hymn

A large audience attended the service of rededication of Mount Hermon chapel on Sunday morning last which completely filled the beautiful edifice but recently remodeled through the generosity of Mr. Wilfred W. Fry of Philadelphia whose name was given as the donor for the first time in public. The student body occupied the main body of the church—the vested male choir under the direction of Prof. Lawrence occupied the choir stalls on each side and Prof. L'Hommiedieu presided at the newly rebuilt and constructed organ at the side of the chancel seats. Rev. Lester F. White conducted the service and led in the act of dedication. It was a service which will long be remembered and kindles anew the bonds of love and fellowship from all students—past and present to Mount Hermon School. The address made by Principal Cutler was a fine appreciation of the remodeled chapel. President Speer made a presentation of the purposes of the school and announced the name of the donor and Mr. Fry modestly gave the story of his part in the enterprise dedicating it to the loyal sons of Mount Hermon and gratefully bestowing an appreciation of thankfulness to all those who by labor and sacrifice first erected and since maintained the chapel in loving memory of Dwight L. Moody. He recalled the make-shift chapel of his day at Mount Hermon and the oft-expressed desires of Mr. Moody for one which would meet the needs of the school. The same modesty which made Mr. Fry desire to have his gift anonymous maybe prompted him in his address to place credit for the new interior upon every one except himself. He revealed how Mr. Moody longed for a new interior, how Dr. Cutler visualized it, how Ralph Harrington Doane, an alumnus of Mount Hermon, designed it, and how every one who has ever had any connection with Mount Hermon helped to build it.

The renovated Mount Hermon chapel is a great improvement over its former condition both in beauty and in comfort. As one enters the hall way, which leads into the main section of the structure and from which a staircase winds to the spacious rear balcony, one is able to get an almost complete view of the interior through the antique glass which is encased in carved woodwork of unusual design and color.

Three swinging doors of heavy oak lead from this hall into the main seating section, where a broad center aisle is bordered on each side by a row of long, straight pews. These pews, which are now of light walnut color, are estimated to seat, along with those in the balcony, at least one thousand people. Two more aisles of lesser width are formed by an arcade on either side of these rows of pews. Here, again, a perfect combination of design and color is evident, for these massive arcades of stone agree in contour with the broad, beamed ceiling of wood and with the inlaid stone casings of the windows, and the dark stained woodwork blends well with the grey stone and buff colored walls.

What is probably one of the most impressive parts of this chapel, is the chancel and its arrangement. The pulpit and a lectern occupy positions on either side. The organ is at the left hand side while the vested choir sit on both sides facing each other with the chancel seats facing the audience through the broad space of the church.

The entire arrangements presents a cathedral effect, with its wealth of beauty in architecture and lends itself to a spirit of reverence and devotion. The rear wall is beautifully decorated with a painted design in leaf gold.

The renovations have been made almost completely on the interior alone, save for the building of a stone stairway on the south side of the chapel, which is intended to relieve any possible congestion on the stairway from the hall.

Citizenship Meeting

To honor one of Northfield's benefactors, Mrs. A. M. D. Alexander the women of Northfield will meet at Alexander Hall Saturday June 13 at three o'clock. Each organization, which holds meetings in Alexander Hall, will attend in a body and respond to call when their representative gives her brief address. The interest is aroused as to which organization will be 100 per cent present. Besides the brief speeches, there will be musical program followed by a social time for all.

Meeting of Trustees of Northfield Schools

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of The Northfield Schools, which is usually held in connection with the commencement exercises, is this year called for Saturday, June 13, at Mount Hermon where the members of the board will be in attendance at the semi-centennial celebration at Mount Hermon School.

The fire department was called out for a chimney fire at the residence of Miss Callahan on Warwick Avenue Thursday noon.

County Congregationalists Hold Large Meeting At Northfield Hotel

Two hundred and fifty nine members of the Franklin County Congregational Club met at the Northfield Hotel Wednesday evening for their regular spring banquet. Since the full membership of the club is but 275 the attendance was remarkable. The gathering was presided over by president, W. S. Anderson. Reports were given by the secretary, the treasurer and the chairman of the committee on membership. Twenty five dollars was voted from the club's fund to the Franklin County Society for the prevention of cruelty to children. The music was furnished by a quartet consisted of Mrs. Deming, Miss Servaes, Prof. J. Lawrence and Chandler Holton. Mr. Lawrence and Mrs. Deming also sang two duets. Mr. L'Hommiedieu was accompanist. Miss Margaret Slattery was the speaker of the evening and after a happy introduction by President Anderson she spoke for about an hour on the theme, "Bread, Roses and Stones." In her address she gave a vivid word picture of humanity's struggle for bread. Hunger is a world wide tragedy. Famine, disease, death, in many parts of the world are claiming their victims by thousands simply because men, women and children lack food. But we cannot live by bread alone. There is another hunger, that of the spirit, that must be appeased. Souls starve without beauty, truth, goodness. Where are the youth of the world getting these? In our "modern literature"? In the movies? In the rush and turmoil of times? In the homes? Only to a small degree at best. The responsibility resting upon Christian people to supply this food for the spirit is evident. But it means sacrifice, opposition, stones. Are we willing to pay the price? Miss Slattery's ability as a speaker is well known in Northfield. She has spoken many times at the summer conferences. Her address Wednesday evening was of that high and pleasing quality that has made her famous.

The Congregational club is 24 years old. It was organized at Greenfield, February 22, 1907, when a group of men met at Hotel Devens to form an organization to encourage "a more intimate acquaintance and fellowship among members of the Congregational churches and societies of the county, and promotion of general interest of the denomination." There were 122 charter members of the club. Meetings were held for a time at various churches until the club became too large to be readily accommodated in that way. For the past few years the gatherings have been held at various hotels.

Present officers of the club are: President, Rev. William S. Anderson of Greenfield; vice-president, Roy R. Hatch of Mount Hermon; secretary, Winthrop P. Abbott of Greenfield; treasurer, Clinton J. Richards of Greenfield.

Northfield Historical Society Quarterly Meeting To Hold Picnic

The Northfield Historical Society held its quarterly meeting last Tuesday evening in Dickinson Library hall. Mr. Leonard R. Smith, vice president was in the chair.

Discussion was had regarding a memorial to Thomas Power, the young Northfield lawyer of a hundred years ago who started a library and who was the moving spirit in the planting the elms on Main Street. A committee was elected to bring recommendations at the next meeting. It is planned to hold a picnic on Wednesday afternoon, June 24, in the neighborhood of the historic Lincoln house on the road to Brattleboro at Ash Swamp Brook. A committee will announce full details next week. This picnic is not confined to members. Any who are interested in the historical associations of Fort Hinsdale and Ash Swamp and its village, all of which was originally part of Northfield township, are invited to attend. Papers will be read and discussed.

The board of directors was elected a committee to consider plans for a Northfield celebration of the George Washington bi-centennial in 1932, in line with national and state celebrations. The society will probably request the selectmen to appoint a representative community committee as was done for the Tercentenary celebration last year.

Referring to the article in the last town warrant about curtailing the width of Main Street controlled by the State Highway Commission, Dr. Allen Wright spoke strongly in favor of retaining the old landmarks and beautifying the street. His remarks were received with applause.

Among other business transacted was the change of the annual meeting of the Society from the September to the December quarterly meeting. Mrs. George Caldwell's resignation as librarian was accepted with expressions of regret and esteem, and Mr. Joseph R. Colton was elected to fill the post.

The Franklin County Court House bill has passed the house of representatives and it now awaits action upon it by the Senate. Representative Sauter of Greenfield said there is general demand for the new courthouse in Franklin County while Representative Underwood of Orange says the measure provides for an outlay of about $450,000 and that the increased taxes caused in the raising of this amount will prove an unnecessary hardship for the people. It is apparent that a group of politicians have railroaded this bill along in an expeditious manner and that the public and taxpayer have had little to say—in fact know but little about it. It is doubtful if Representative Sauter's statement would be sustained by popular vote.

A beautiful rural street, marvelous shade trees, well kept houses and grounds. Your eyes are filled with the beauty of it all, when suddenly your vision is impaired by a strange sight—Short posts, tall posts, bent posts and crooked posts, some bent forward, others backward—the rural delivery mail box.

Take a look at some of them and see for yourself. Its a pity some rule is not enforced to make them look uniform and tidy. If you own one—mount it on a good post—paint it, take care of it and beside rendering you a good service it will look well as its appearance is noted.

The People's Forum

Dear Mr. Editor,

I am afraid there are those who will be disappointed in my line of thought regarding "mergers", nevertheless, it contains the original thought and purpose which I had in mind when I proposed to write a second article on that subject.

If we who profess to be Christians would live up to our first impulses, convictions, and obligations, there are enough citizens in this community to fill every church to the very doors. In that case there would be no need for mergers.

Far be it from me to say that much going to church makes the better Christian, but after having given our word of honor, I often wonder if we ever stop to think how much our churches need us. If they are to be alive and active how can we expect them to be so without our assistance!

I fully appreciate the fact that religion is a private and individual matter, but I am also convinced that we take advantage of that privilege by setting our own standards and by introducing rules to conform to our personal interests. As to the form of religion, we follow, that also is an individual matter, but some of us get stranger notions into our heads. We get the idea that our form of belief is the one and only one worthy of consideration. That is proof enough to me that such a person is just the one to avoid. I fully realize that I am stepping on controversial ground when I imply that our future outlook may be a matter of guess-work after all. I would go still farther by saying that physical condition and financial circumstances play an important part in our attitude even in that much assurance. But be that as it may, I take a great deal of comfort in feeling that my guess is right.

But why should we entertain such ideas as merging? I feel I can answer that question best by an illustration which might take on the form of a typical procedure in church life, the result of which drives us to the thought of merging.

After having given much thought and prayer in the selection of a minister we give him a "call." A reception follows. The minister's wife is presented with a big wash-tub full of daffodils, and the happy couple return to their new home filled with joy and anticipation. For several Sundays the church is filled to overflowing, then Miss Betty Pickens thinks she discovered something. She transmits the discovery to Mrs. Snoop who in turn relays it to Mrs. Edith Quack. From morning until night Old Man Tattle paces to and fro with a familiar greeting, "Say brother, did you hear?" His words are smoother than butter. Nevertheless he is a peddler of pessimism and gives his energies to fanning a flame which is born of idle gossip. I can see him now.

Without having the slightest inkling of what is going on, the minister continues to preach to a dwindling audience. The choir is reduced to a mere squeak. Finally the very echo of his own voice rebounds from the empty pews to tell him he is not wanted. To me the merging of churches presents a retraction of our former faith. Retrogression of church influence in a community would have far greater consequences than one would care to contemplate.

Philip Porter.

The Poet's Corner

Next Door Dog

By Dixie Willson, 1930.

Some people say the next door dog
And mine are just the same.
They say the only difference is Mine has a different name.
They say that tail and spots and ears
And eyes and nose and bark
Are just the same as my dog
In the daylight or the dark!
But for a million dollars down
And fifty million more
I wouldn't trade my little dog
For the little dog next door!
He may look just the same to you,
And he may be just as fine,
BUT
The next door dog is the next door dog,
And mine—is mine!

And They Followed Him

By Grace Noll Crowell

He walked the highways—up small streets and down,
Or on the shore-roads by the glittering sea,
But whether in the country or the town
They sought Him ceaselessly.
Men closed their shops—they left their plows to seek
The many roads He took beneath the sun;
The woman eager to see Him—bears
Him speak—
Left every task undone.
Their little children stumbling at their side,
That all might see this Healer, Teacher, Guide.

That all might see Him! Oh, I wish today
That He were here along some city street
Or country lane, and we could find
the way
On eager, stumbling feet;
Our men to leave their shops and plows to go—
Our women every household task to find
The One who had compassion long ago
Upon the deaf and blind—Dear God
I pray
That somewhere we shall find Him on the way.

Reports to the National Headquarters of the American Automobile association, based on inquiries to member clubs at widely scattered points, indicate that thousands of motorists from every section of the United States and Canada are planning to participate in the Chicago mammoth Jubilee to be celebrated during the week of May 11 to May 16.

A visitor from the city one day asked a farmer what he did with such an enormous peach crop. The farmer replied:

"Well, we eat what we can, and what we can't we can."

"We do the same thing," replied the visitor. "We sell what we can sell, and what we can't sell we cancel."

Louise Andrews Camp To Open on June 23rd

The Louise Andrews Camp of Northfield located on Pierson Road near Winchester Avenue among the groves of pine, birches and hemlock, will open for the season on Tuesday, June 23rd. The camp is for self supporting young women 16 to 35 years of age and for students who are to be self-supporting. The quarters consist of a large main building, Cree cottage of medium size and three small cottages. Each guest is expected to share the housework of the Camp, assisting with the lighter duties of the house. The activities consist of tennis, basketball, baseball, swimming, picnics and hikes. Opportunity is also provided for quiet rest and comfort with reading, nature study, handicraft and discussion. The daily program includes provision for all activities and a rest hour. Plenty of sleep, balanced meals, and out-of-door activities guarantee a healthful vacation.

The extremely low charge of $9.00 for Board is possible because certain expenses of the Camp are met by the Girls' Conference. The Directors of the Camp are Miss Marguerite Cree Presbrey and Miss Beatrice Burr.

Powers Institute At Bernardston To Graduate
Evening June 25th

The Senior Class of Powers Institute has made all arrangements for graduation. Class Day exercises are to be held the night before graduation, June 24 at 7 o'clock. If the weather is excellent, the program will take place on the school lawn, if not, in the Hall.

Two important parts of the Class Day exercises will probably be the decoration of the picture of Mr. Epps Powers, who gave money to start Powers Institute, approximately 75 years ago, and the planting of the Ivy at the school house.

The Class Day parts will be as follows: Address by President, "School Spirit," Clarence Duprey; Class Poem "Georgiana Nelson"; Address to Campus and Buildings, Atwood Fitzherbert; History of School Paper of Powers Institute, Julia Gruszkowski; Address to Undergraduates, Abbie Burrows; Essay on School Motto, "He Conquers Who Endures," Charlotte Truesdell; Junior Presentation of Gifts to Seniors, Natalie Ward; Singing of Class Song, Written by Abel Parent, 1932.

The Honorable Cornelius Parker, noted lawyer of Boston, Massachusetts and president of the Powers Institute Alumni Association is the graduation speaker this year.

The Parent Teachers Association has kindly volunteered to take charge of the Senior dance and reception Friday night, June 26. The Senior Class is exceedingly grateful to the Parent Teachers for helping them out about their reception problem.

Rev. A. L. Truesdell is furnishing the invitations for the Seniors announcing their graduation exercises to be held at the Town Hall, Thursday evening, June 25, with class parts as follows:

Salutatory, "Training for Citizenship," Constance Foster; Class History, Irene Streeter; Class Will, Theodore Judd; Class Prophecy, Eva Townsend; Valedictory, "Mrsic", Dorothy Phelps.

The Class officers for the Senior class of 1931 are: President, Clarence Duprey; Vice-President, Irene Streeter; Secretary, Eva Townsend; Treasurer, Dorothy Phelps.

Poultry thieves are again about and have visited quite a few places at North Bernardston. It is said that they have attempted to destroy the watch dogs so they can get away with the turkeys and guinea. Some of the folks have now procured shot guns, loaded with buckshot for the next visit of the thieves.

The Garden club met with Mrs. Arthur Mason last week and as it was the annual meeting the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Raymond Dunnell; vice - president, Mrs. Harold Dennison; secretary and treasurer, Miss Eleanor Barber; directors, Mrs. C. D. Pratt, Mrs. Sarah Field and Mrs. E. W. Vail.

Powers Institute defeated the Bernardston A. C., in the annual tilt between these rivals, 7 to 5. The town team outlasted the schoolboys 10 to 7 but also had seven errors chalked up against them. E. Bardwell featured at the bat, getting three hits in four times up. Batteries: Powers: Judd, Kratz and Jillson; A. C., M. Katz, Allen and R. Bardwell.

Bernardston had a special town meeting last week to consider the advisability of the building of a gymnasium for the schools. Ray Atherton and Fred Wright, two of the committee to look up the cost of building, gave reports and had plans drawn to show the kind of building planned.

The new building was to cost $10,000 and the plan was defeated by ballot 99 to 29. Frank R. Foster was moderator, Frank Deane and Leon Burrows were ballot clerks.

A Note of Appreciation

The Northfield Printing Co., has just issued from its press a very attractive brochure describing the merits and its advantage over other systems of the shorthand method founded by Rev. Charles C. Conner and known as the Conner System concerning which a text-book has already been issued. The brochure just printed will be mailed to educators and educational institutions in this country. In appreciation of the splendid work done by this office Mr. Conner sends the following letter.
To the Editor:—
"Permit me to express somewhere in your columns my appreciation of the work done in the printing plant on a brochure "As to Method of Writing." It might not have been produced with more neatness in any other printery of long and reputable standing. It was well done, with an artistic styling of the title page by the head printer.
Gratefully

Something New:— A new, up-to-date state approved grease dispensary has been added to the Greasing Department at the Morgan Garage, Northfield. This machine assures the customer of Accurate Measure and is the Last Word in Cleanliness. The Dispenser works under Air Pressure which forces the Grease into the Gear Boxes without loss by spilling. A dial on the Gauge shows the exact amount of lubricant going into the car and the Customer pays only for what he actually gets. Adv. 4-24-tf

Put Out Your Flag Sunday June 14th

Sunday June 14th is Flag Day and Governor Joseph B. Ely has issued a proclamation for its observance. The flag should be treated with respect because of what it represents and every house and public building should have a flag and display one, and when you display the flag do it properly—Here is the code for its proper display:—

Proper Manner of Displaying the Flag

There are certain fundamental rules of heraldry which, if understood generally, would indicate the proper method of displaying the Flag. The matter becomes a very simple one if it is kept in mind that the National Flag represents the living country and is itself considered as a living thing. The union of the Flag is the honor point; the right arm is the sword arm, and therefore the point of danger and hence the place of honor.

1. The Flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority. It should be displayed on National and State holidays, and historic and special occasions. The Flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

2. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the Flag of the United States of America should be either on the marching right, i. e., the Flag's own right, or when there is a line of other flags, the Flag of the United States of America may be in front of the center of that line.

3. When displayed with another flag against a wall from cross staffs, the Flag of the United States of America should be on the right, the Flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

4. When a number of flags of States or cities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs with the Flag of the United States of America, the latter should be at the center or at the highest point of the group.

5. When flags of States or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the Flag of the United States of America, the latter should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the Flag of the United States of America should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant flown in the former position should be placed above, or in the latter position to the right of the Flag of the United States of America, i. e., to the observer's left.

6. When flags of two or more nations are displayed they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately equal size. (International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.)

7. When the Flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of building, the union of the Flag should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the Flag is at half-staff. (When the Flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope, extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the Flag should be hoisted out from the building towards the pole, union first.)

8. When the Flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the Flag's own right, i. e., to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes or drapings of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the Flag.

9. When the Flag is displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the Flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

10. When used on a speaker's platform, the Flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. If flown from a staff it should be in the position of honor, at the speaker's right. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk or to drape over the front of the platform.

11. When used in connection with the unveiling of a statue or monument, the Flag should form a distinctive feature during the ceremony, but the Flag itself should never be used as the covering for the statue.

12. When flown at half-staff, the Flag should be hoisted to the peak for an instant then lowered to the half-staff position; but before lowering the Flag for the day it is raised again to the peak. By half-staff is meant hauling down the Flag to one-half the distance between the top and the bottom of the staff. If local conditions require, divergence from this position is permissible. On Memorial Day, May 30th, the Flag is displayed at half-staff from sunrise until noon and at full staff from noon until sunset; for the Nation lives and the Flag is the symbol of the living Nation.

13. Flags flown from fixed staffs are placed at half-staff to indicate mourning. When the Flag is displayed on a small staff, as when carried in parade, mourning is indicated by attaching two streamers of black crepe to the spear head, allowing the streamers to fall naturally. Crepe is used on the flag-staff only by order of the President.

14. When used to cover a casket, the Flag should be placed so that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The Flag should not be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground. The casket should be carried foot first.

15. When the Flag is displayed in the body of the church, it should be from a staff placed in the position of honor at the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the State flag or other flag should be at the left of the congregation. If in the chancel or on the platform, the Flag of the United States of America should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation and the other flags at his left.

16. When the Flag is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, it should not be cast aside or used in any way that might be viewed as disrespectful to the National colors, but should be destroyed as a whole, privately, preferably by burning or by some other method in harmony with the reverence and respect we owe to the emblem representing our country.

Cautions

1. Do not permit disrespect to be shown to the Flag of the United States of America.

2. Do not dip the Flag of the United States of America to any person or any thing. The regimental color, State flag, organization or institutional flag will render this honor.

3. Do not display the Flag with the union down except as a signal of distress.

4. Do not place any other flag or pennant above or, if on the same level to the right of the Flag of the United States of America.

5. Do not let the Flag touch the ground or the floor, or trail in the water.

6. Do not place any object or emblem of any kind on or above the Flag of the United States of America.

8. Do not fasten the Flag in such manner as will permit it to be easily torn.

9. Do not drape the Flag over the hood top, sides or back of a vehicle, or of a railroad train or boat. When the Flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be affixed firmly to the chassis, or clamped to the radiator cap.

10. Do not display the Flag on a float in a parade except from a staff.

11. Do not use the Flag as a covering for a ceiling.

12. Do not carry the Flag flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

13. Do not use the Flag as a portion of a costume or of an athletic uniform. Do not embroider it upon cushions or handkerchiefs nor print it on paper napkins or boxes.

14. Do not put lettering of any kind upon the Flag.

15. Do not use the Flag in any form of advertising nor fasten an advertising sign to a pole from which the Flag is flying.

16. Do not display, use or store the Flag in such a manner as will permit it to be easily soiled or damaged.

Annual Meeting of Massachusetts Women's Republican Club

Northfield and Franklin County were represented at the Annual Meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, at the clubhouse, 46 Beacon Street, Boston, on May 26th by Mrs. Wolfert Webber, the Franklin County Chairman, who gave the annual report of activities of the club in this county. As there are only six members of this organization in all Franklin County, three of whom, Mrs. Henry F. Cutler, Miss Anna Miller, and Mrs. Webber are in our community, the local work of this club is to co-operate in every way with Republican organizations hereabouts, as was evidenced by the Republican Tea Party held last September at The Chateau. The excellent work done in Northfield in getting out the vote in the November election was enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Webber was re-elected to serve another year as Franklin County Chairman of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts.

Baseball — Northfield Defeats Shelburne

The first baseball game of the season was played on Decoration Day before a good sized audience on the diamond at the Northfield Hotel grounds. Shelburne Falls team went down to defeat by a score of 10 to 4. The Northfield boys played good ball and demonstrated they will prove a match for any team coming this way. It looks like a winning team for Northfield. At the first game the Northfield players and their positions were:—Reed, I. F., Moquin, C., Williams 1b., Cook r.f., Shearer 2b., Wrigley a.s., Cembalisky 3b., Sooble c.f., Bistrek p.

The lineup for Shelburne was:—Baker, I., Ferrington c., Walden 1b., Woodward s., Shearer p., Carrier c.f., Duprey 3b., Drigo r.f., Minor 2b.

The score by innings was as follows:—

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Northfield	0	0	1	0	4	0	3	2	10
Shelburne Falls	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	1	4

Athol Bank Teller Assaulted and Robbed

Was Carrying $6300 From Athol National Bank to Millers River National Bank When "Taken For A Ride"

Theodore H. Newton of Athol, for the past four or five years teller at the Athol National Bank, was held up and taken for a ride by a stranger about 11 o'clock Monday morning, then hit over the head and the sum of $6,000 in bills was taken and Newton was left unconscious on the ground. Newton came out of the bank with the money in his bag. Just as he started to enter his own car to drive to the Millers River National Bank to deposit the money, a stranger stepped up and got into the car with him and told him to drive along. Newton did not see a "gun" but he says he believes the man had one under cover. Newton drove down Main, over Exchange to Pequig Avenue as directed by the stranger and near what is known as Fryeville he was hit over the head and left unconscious behind his own car in the road. The money and man disappeared. A little later Newton was found on the ground by A. K. Turner, who drove him to his home where he was attended by Dr. J. A. Smith. Naturally he was hazy about everything for a time after the hard blow on the head but he was able to give a description of both the man and another car which was standing at Fryeville when they reached there. He states that the man was about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches tall, wore a blue suit, a dark cap, smooth shaven, heavy dark eyebrows, dark complexioned and of medium build.

The strange car, Newton thinks was a New York car but the number plates were covered with mud but he believes they were yellow and black and he thinks it was a dark blue Cadillac sedan. Later on a car answering this description was seen by other people but the driver was a much larger man than the one who took Newton from the bank. However, Chief of Police P. J. Murphy and the state police, believe that without doubt there were at least two mixed up in the robbery and perhaps more.

On the way over Newton said he tried every way possible to signal J. H. Sherwood of Exchange street, but was unable to attract his attention. There is of course no doubt but the entire affair was planned and carried out by those who knew about Newton's taking money to the other bank. Newton is twenty-five years of age and has been a valued employee at the Athol National Bank for the past several years. There is much sympathy expressed for him in this occurrence.

Three hundred dollars in silver was left behind by the thief. Evidently he did not wish to be burdened with the weight of the "hard" money.

Just as we go to press information reaches us that Teller Newton has confessed to the theft and admitted his guilt.

Famous Old Trees

A three-hundred-year-old tree in a church burying ground at Falls Church, Virginia, has been selected by the Daughters of the American Revolution as the second living memorial of America's past to be preserved for posterity.

The National Society of the D. A. R. has embarked upon a plan of choosing one historic tree for preservation each year by means of a nation-wide referendum through its state chapters.

The tree at Falls Church—a tulip poplar with a foliage spread of 75 feet—has looked down upon more than three centuries of American history. It was more than 100 years old when George Washington, vestryman of the church, rested in its shade. Crumbling tombstones, in desolate dignity, speak mutely of the death of all else that lived in pre-revolutionary days. The tree is the only living thing that was alive in the hamlet of Falls Church when Washington lived.

During the revolutionary war the church was a recruiting place for the Company of Captain Charles Broadwater, a fellow vestryman of George Washington. Captain Henry Fairfax restored it just before the Mexican war, but in the Civil war it was used by Union soldiers, first as a hospital, then as a stable. All of its equipment was destroyed except the front, which pious hands hid and saved.

In recent years the church has been restored and today is a replica of that in which Washington worshipped. Located on the Lee highway six miles south of the Key bridge in Falls Church, it is a mecca for visitors who come every year from all parts of the nation.

Franklin County Hospital Board At The Weldon

On Monday, June 1st the Board of Organized Work of the Franklin County Hospital met for luncheon and Annual Meeting at the Weldon. As guests of the Board, the chairmen of the committees of the county towns were present, and presented, informally, their accounts of activities in their localities. Northfield was represented by Mrs. Wolfert Webber, the local chairman. She reported the generous donations of fresh vegetables and fruits, and the supply of one hundred quarts of home canned goods, the work of our industrious housewives of Northfield, all of which were delivered to the Hospital by our committee in the fall. The Women's Alliance of the South Church has completed the work on twenty-four baby dresses for the Hospital. Mrs. Webber said that at a recent meeting of the Northfield Board, plans were made for raising money for the Franklin County Hospital by holding food sales during the August Conference.

Members of the Board of Organized Work and guests, were glad to have the opportunity at this meeting of hearing Mr. Raymond Andrews, the new president of the Board of Trustees of the Franklin County Hospital. Mr. Andrews spoke of his appreciation of the valuable work done by this Board of Organized Work. He cited as one instance of the value of our hospital to our community, that in the past year, two hundred nine mothers had borne two hundred eleven babies in our hospital and that every mother and child had left the hospital in good condition to return to their homes.

The Northfield Board of the Franklin County Hospital takes this opportunity to thank the women of Northfield once again for their generous gift of canning, and to say that the supply of empty jars and tumblers for this summer's canning is now ready. Anyone wishing these may have them delivered at her home by notifying some one of the board.

Stoneleigh School to Hold Horse Show

Students of the Stoneleigh-Prospect Hill school will give a horse show at the school on Monday, June 22, as one of the features of the 1931 commencement program. Various show stables in Amherst, Northampton, Brattleboro and surrounding territory will place entries in the saddle and jumping classes.

The Massachusetts State College cavalry officers will add color to the occasion by their appearance with the jumpers.

This will be the Stoneleigh school's first commencement on its new site. The school was moved last summer from its former location in Rye Beach. The new riding rink, which has just been built, affords the girls a fine opportunity to make the show an excellent exhibition of horsemanship.

Bittering's Old Paper

The following item comes to us from the Newspaper Publishers Auxiliary and is a report of the paper at Plymouth, Mass., in which Mr. J. F. Bittering of this town was interested. It is now edited by his nephew.

"The Old Colony Standard, published at Plymouth, Mass. by the Bittering Printing company, came out May 1 with a 26-page paper full of interesting features, many of which are permanent weekly offerings to the readers of that paper. Two sports pages made up of local sporting events and built around WNU 'Highlights of Sport' were especially attractive, taking on a timely metropolitan aspect. Paul W. Bittering is managing editor, ably assisted by Joseph F. Berhle, associate editor."

To commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross the Post Office Department has issued a special postage stamp of new design bearing prominently upon it the Red Cross. The stamp is enclosed in a heavy border and across the face are the words U. S. Postage. The central design is the figure of a Red Cross nurse kneeling before the globe with outstretched hands reproduced from the 1930 poster. On either side are the figures 1881-1931. The denomination is two cents. These stamps are very much admired and are for sale at our local post offices.

Bids Called For Bridge On Northfield-Bernardston Road

The state highway department has called for bids for the construction of a new reinforced concrete bridge over the Boston & Maine railroad tracks on the Bernardston Road near Mount Hermon. The construction also includes about 2,000 feet of bituminous macadam on both sides of the bridge to connect the finished roadways. The bids are to be opened June 9th.

The construction will be done in connection with a plan to relocate the present overhead bridge on the Bernardston — Northfield highway, with a new structure several hundred feet north of the present location which will require changes in the highway for the approaches, eliminating the curves on both approaches. The expense of the work will be divided between the state and the railroad.

"Tam Htab," he mused, "I'll bet that's Welsh for 'Welcome'."

"No, sir," said the attendant, "The bath mat happens to be upside down."

Favorite In Northfield Audience

Miss Gerda Schroeder, mezzo-soprano of Copenhagen, Denmark, is the soloist in the Northfield Seminary auditorium, at the commencement service next Sunday morning, June 7.

Miss Schroeder, a pupil of Madame Schumann-Heink and of Professor Robert Weiss of Munich, arrived recently from Europe and will take up concert singing and other solo work in this country, after resting at Northfield. She was formerly vocal instructor at Northfield Seminary.

Miss Schroeder is also on the program of the Whittle Orchestra concert to be given Saturday afternoon in Silverthorne Hall in connection with the Seminary commencement. She recently sang before the Fortnightly Club of Northfield at the Memorial Day exercises in the Town Hall. Northfield people always enjoy her singing and she is a real favorite in musical circles.

Memorial Day Observed

Memorial Day was fittingly observed in Northfield. The weather was unusually fine though very warm. As previously announced the rendezvous was at the Town Hall and at eight thirty o'clock the marchers began to gather, those belonging to militant organizations in the uniforms of their service and the school children looking bright and sparkling in their spic and span clothes.

The parade moved in the following order: The Legion Drum Corps of Orange followed by the firing squad from the local Post of the American Legion. Then came the surviving members of the Grand Army of the Republic escorted by the Sons of Veterans. Then members of the Spanish War Veterans followed and next came the American Legion Auxiliary.

Then came the Boy Scouts and then the children of the public schools. The Women's Relief Corp followed in automobiles.

The parade headed up the street to decorate the tablet at Alexander Hall and then marched to the cemetery to decorate the graves.

Returning to the Town Hall the tablet there was decorated and all entered the Town Hall. The following was the program rendered: Singing, "I Saw Spangled Banner," by audience; Invocation, by Rev. Charles C. Conner; Reading, John A. Logan's Order, Max L. Huber, Commander American Legion; Solo, Miss Gerda Schroeder; Reading, Northfield Roll of Honor by Willia G. Slate, Commander Sons of Veterans; Address by Rev. Paul Swarthout of the Baptist Church, Brattleboro, Vt.; Solo by Miss Gerda Schroeder; Reading of Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg, by John Hurley; Exercises by the School Children; Singing, "America," by audience.

Miss Gerda Schroeder sang two solos, R. L. Stephenson's Requiem, with music by Sidney Homer and "There Is No Death" by O'Hara.

The children of the schools who took part in the exercises were: East Northfield, Edward Cormie, Adan French, Ralph Forsaith, Matthew Forsaith, Edward Tie, Sutler Tie, Arthur Rolton, Ernest Bolton and Robert Webber; West Northfield, Helen Wazniak, Stephanie Duda, Fanny Lombard; Rolfe Carmean, bugler; Center school, Martha Stebbins, Stefania Vitalis, Marian Leach; Upper Farms school, Grace Fisher, Madeline Whitney, Joseph Mankowski, Leon Mankowski.

Coal Contract Awarded

For some time the Board of Education, the Library Trustees, and the Selectmen have been considering the matter of consolidating their purchases of coal in order to save money over the independent and random method of buying. Mr. George McEwan from the school board, Dr. A. H. Wright from the Library Trustees and Mr. Ralph Leach of the Selectmen were constituted a committee and after carefully going into the matter awarded the contract for the aggregate supply to Mr. G. O. Dunnell at a low and satisfactory price. There were no outside bidders but the basis of calculation was upon the price paid by public institutions.

Body of Woman Found At Vernon Dam

Last Wednesday the body of a woman was found among the driftwood at the dam of the Connecticut Power Co., at Vernon by Benjamin Akley an employee of the company. It was in midstream, lodged against the boom which keeps driftwood away from the rack above the water wheels. With a rope Supt. Everett E. Stockwell of the plant secured the body to the Vermont side of the river and notified the Hinsdale authorities, the body having been found on the New Hampshire side of the boundary line. Mr. Stockwell was assisted by Fred Gregory and William Beyette.

Absence of garments, and the discolored condition of the body, which was beginning to decompose, left little by which identification could be established, but it was noted that the woman had a plain band ring on a finger of her right hand and was of medium height.

The body was identified later as that of Mrs. Stephen Warwaka of Bellows Falls, wife of John P. Warwaka. She jumped from the new cement bridge at Bellows Falls the afternoon of Wednesday, April 8, into the foaming water of a rocky gorge 80 feet below. She had not seemed well for several days and threw herself over the bridge balustrade. Mrs. Warwaka was a young Polish woman, the mother of five children. Dr. A. F. Weston of Keene, medical examiner for Cheshire county, viewed the body and gave permission for its removal.

Important Information To Non-Resident Motorists

The State Public Works Department Bureau of Registry calls the attention of non-resident motorists to a recent act of the Massachusetts Legislature, effective June 24, which provides that non-residents are no longer required to secure Massachusetts number plates but if they remain over 30 days must secure a permit, which will be issued free of charge if the non-resident is a holder of a liability insurance policy similar to that required in Massachusetts. These permits will be issued at any branch office of the registry of motor vehicles, or by mail. The reciprocity extended by Massachusetts is based upon substantially similar privileges being offered by the state or country from which the visitor comes.

At Brattleboro Auditorium She Is—That Good

Ever hear of an actress so good that she spoiled scenes?

That, paradoxically enough, applies to Claudette Colbert, who, while making a dramatic scene for "Honor Among Lovers," Paramount talking picture which arrives for Wednesday and Thursday at the Brattleboro Auditorium cried to perfectly, so frequently and so abundantly that the movie's perfect substitute for mascara ran from starry eyes right down ivory white cheeks in black streaks. Black streaks on a performer's face not registering in the cameras as anything but black streaks, production had to be halted temporarily and new make-up applied.

After this happened twice and Claudette did so well by her lachrymal ducts, Dorothy Arzner, director of the picture, begged her to be a little less emotional, which, for Claudette, meant less than restraint.

"Honor Among Lovers," cleverly dialogued and based on a story by Austin Parker, has a festive collegiate spirit projected upon gay backgrounds of modern high finance. The plot revolves about a clever secretary and her rich broker boss, who fall in love, but are not permitted to marry until Miss Colbert has been dramatically disillusioned by her preferred lover.

A party of sixteen visited the Fire Tower on Mount Grace last Saturday. Eight members of the party camped out on the top of the mountain all night.

Several young people took advantage of the warm weather over the week end, and indulged in swimming in Moore's Pond. According to all reports, the water wasn't as warm as was the air.

WARWICK'S LAST PUBLIC BUILDING BIDS KEROSENE GOODBYE

The last of Warwick's public buildings to surrender to the advent of electricity bid farewell to kerosene lamps this week. The general store, which has been operated for the past 22 years by Mr. Edward A. Lyman, ably assisted by Mrs. Lyman now boasts brand new electric fixtures. The time honored place held by old-fashioned kerosene lamps, has been given to the clean, shiny, and dependable glass bulbs that illuminate the modern world.

Several years ago, the first public building in Warwick to brag of being electrically lighted, was the Mount Grace Inn. Mr. Harry Lemp, now of Salem, owned the Inn at the time Mr. Lemp installed an electric system in the Inn which was complete within itself. It generated its own "juice," and many of the town's people will never forget the awe-inspiring night when electricity first came to Warwick.

Besides wiring the Inn completely, Mr. Lemp erected several posts around the outside of the building, and connected these with the house system. On the tops of these posts, the owner of the Inn secured large glass globes which housed the bulbs inside. The night came when Warwick was to witness the first illumination by electricity within its borders. Half the residents of the town were gathered about the Inn, patiently awaiting the minute when Mr. Lemp was to throw the switch which would light the many bulbs.

One could hear the pounding of a gasoline engine within the hotel, as it labored to generate the current. The minute arrived, and Mr. Lemp pushed the proper button. Nothing happened. The light bulbs remained dark. The posts outside the Inn were unilluminated. A sigh of disappointment swept over the Warwickians gathered around. It looked like a dismal failure. But the energetic Mr. Lemp refused to surrender, and after an hour of frantic tracing, discovered that an important connection had been left open. This was quickly remedied, the switch was again thrown—and Warwick saw for the first time electric lights burning within the village. They flickered and wavered, and they weren't very bright, but they were lights, and they were electric lights, for all that.

A short time later, the Town Hall was wired for electricity. A power plant was installed, and from that day on, the town fathers carried on the business of Warwick beneath modern electric fixtures. By the time fire destroyed the school building in the center of the town, electricity came into Warwick over wires from the outside. The new school was linked to these wires. Next in line came the Library, which was recently wired. And now—the General Store. The last of the public buildings in Warwick to surrender its oil lamps for the modern way of lighting—electricity.

Maple Products Below Average

The 1931 maple crop in New England is estimated at 7,314,000 lbs., expressed as sugar, compared with 15,462,000 pounds produced in 1929 and 12,860,600 pounds the 1925-29 average production. Of the total production this year 14.2% or 1,042,000 pounds was made into sugar while the balance was made into 784,000 gallons of sirup (eight pounds of sugar equals one gallon of sirup). These totals compare with 1,726,000 pounds of sugar and 1,717,000 gallons of sirup made during the 1930 season.

A passenger train was getting ready to leave. "All right back there?" bawled the conductor. "Hol' on, Hol' on," shrieked a feminine voice from outside the waiting room. "Jess wait till I gets mah clothes on." And then, as the occupants of the train craned their necks expectantly, she appeared with a basketful of laundry. U. P. Magazine.

Atherton of Orange, Mrs. Etta Chapin and son, Myron and Roy Chapin of Bernardston, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boyle of Bernardston, all former citizens of Gill, were among those present. At the close of the service, all marched with the Legion to the Center cemetery and the usual ceremony was performed by the veterans.

About 40 members with their children gathered at seven o'clock around long tables arranged on the common to enjoy a basket lunch. Coffee, lemonade and ice cream were served to supplement the lunch. After the supper all went into the hall where a delightful program of piano and violin music was given by Carlton L'Hommiedue and Charles Drury of Mt. Hermon. The business meeting following the program was presided over by the vice-president, I. J. Lawrence. At this time the following officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. P. W. Final examinations began on Monday of this week, recitations in the classrooms having finished on Saturday. The exercises of commencement will begin with the Joseph Allen prize declamation contest on Friday evening in Camp hall and extend through Monday, June 8.

Baccalaureate services for Mount Hermon and the Northfield Schools will be held at the Auditorium, East Northfield, on Sunday at 10.00 a. m. the Reverend Bishop John T. Dallas of the diocese of New Hampshire being the speaker. The graduates of the classes of the Northfield Seminary and the Mount Hermon School, about 140 in number will be clad in caps and gowns, and march in with the Processional.

A joint sacred concert by the combined schools, totaling 1100 voices will be given in the Auditorium that same afternoon at 3.30. Mr. Irving J. Lawrence, head of the department of music at Mount Hermon, will conduct the chorals. This concert is an annual affair, the music consisting chiefly in hymns, but with the addition of some special work from an oratorio. Each week since March 1st Mr. Lawrence has conducted a drill for each school, pointing especially for the sacred concert in June.

Seventy seniors are expected to graduate at this time, nearly all of them heading for college in the fall. Dr. Henry F. Cutler, Principal of the school for 41 years, will present the diplomas. The Spade Oration will be given by Anver, J. Yonkers of the class of 1931, Whitesboro, New York. This is a custom of long standing, in which a spade symbolizing the habit of industry is presented to the president of the incoming senior class each year at Commencement time. The benediction at the close of this service will conclude the 44th Mount Hermon Commencement.

Closing chapel exercises for the year took place at Mount Hermon School last Saturday with Dr. Henry F. Cutler, principal, presiding. On Monday the examinations began and will continue until Saturday. The Commencement activities start next Friday night, June 5th and on Monday, June 8, at one o'clock, the graduation exercises will take place in the renovated Memorial Chapel.

Joshua Cravett of Denver, Colorado, of the class of 1889, who has just celebrated the 40th anniversary of his pastorate of the Galilee Baptist church of Denver.
